

Gail Huntington Library Archival Holdings re: Hereditary Deafness on Martha's Vineyard as of 17 June, 1999

- Allen, Joseph Chase. "As I Remember the Island Sixty Years Ago." The Vineyard Gazette. 25 March 1966.
- Corr, David. "Expert Traces Vineyard Story of Deaf and Their Community." The Vineyard Gazette. 20 August 1985.
- Groce, Nora Ellen. Everyone Here Spoke Sign Language: Hereditary Deafness on Martha's Vineyard. Cambridge, MA: Harvard University Press, 1985.
- Groce, Nora Ellen. Hereditary Deafness on the Island of Martha's Vineyard: And Ethnohistory of a Genetic Disorder. PhD thesis: Brown University, 1983.
- Groce, Nora Ellen. "The Island's Deaf: A Lesson in Human Understanding." The Dukes County Intelligencer. February 1981: 83-98.
- Haygood, Will. "The Mystery of Martha's Vineyard." The Boston Globe. 20 July 1986:A1-A4.
- List of Martha's Vineyard Students at the American School for the Deaf, 1817-1887.
- List of Pupils at the American School for the Deaf, 1817-1851.
- Kageleiry, Jamie. "The Island that Spoke By Hand." Yankee. March 1999:49-55, 114-117.
- Kelly, Gerald R. "Chilmark, A Model for Handicapped People All Over." The Martha's Vineyard Times. 13 January 1994:19.
- "Mark of Chilmark: Deaf and Dumb in the Village of Squibnocket Where One Person in Every Four is Speechless." Boston Sunday Herald. 20 January 1895.
- "November 28 Program in Edgartown Honors Sign Language History." The Vineyard Gazette. 21 November 1997.
- Mayhew, Florence B. Response to Herald article 20 January 1895: letter to the Editor. The Boston Sunday Herald. 18 February 1895.
- Thorkelson, Chris. "The Vineyard Deaf Community and the American School for the Deaf." Essay.
- Valentine, Phyllis Klein. "A Nineteenth-Century Experiment in Education of the Handicapped: The American Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb." New England Quarterly. September 1991: 355-375.
- Williams, Lana. "Martha's Vineyard Revisited." Hearing Health. August/September 1992.